FLASH

2007 Fair Price Reduced!

By Howie Myers, Fair Chair

Hello members. I am pleased to announce that we now have 5 sponsors. Therefore, we are reducing your cost to attend. We are dropping the price from $60 to $40.

So remember, sign up early and sign up often. We are filling our gallery also with 21 booths so far.

Who is the fifth sponsor? You know them well. They made the Bathysphere used to locate the Titanic. They put athletes on the back of their boxes before any other company thought about doing it. What is the reason? They're the "Breakfast of Champions." That's right, General Mills.

Here are some other trivia facts from our other sponsors. Which company has been paying dividends since 1899? Which company has significant operations in New Zealand? Which company has 90% name recognition in the USA; which is better than any other company? Which Company moves freight around the world, but don't own the fleet? Answers: GE; Swift Energy; Aflac; CH Robinson.

See you at the Fair April 27, 28 2007
